Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by French patent No. 2705993.

See headrail 7, blind body 10,11, etc., input device 14, control mechanism 19, controller 1, top end 18, and connecting portion 11.

Claims 1,8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Gregg.

See headrail 12, blind 3,9, etc., power input 15, actuator 16, rod 18, controller 11, 19, connecting portion 24,25, and the battery operated motor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over French '993 in view of Forquer.

While '993 is not specific about the shape of the connection between 30 and 34, the use of polygonal crosssection for positive drive connection is well known, as illustrated by Forquer at 108,110. It would have been obvious to provide '993 with such a connection to prevent slipping.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
